

Symposium on the occasion of the International Day of Women and Girls in Science

Aula Turing - Collegio Raffaello
Piazza della Repubblica, 13 Urbino
February 8, 2024

A significant gender gap has persisted throughout the years at all levels of Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) disciplines all over the world. Even though women have made tremendous progress towards increasing their participation in higher education, they are still under-represented in these fields.

Gender equality has always been a core issue for the United Nations. Gender equality and the empowerment of women and girls will make a crucial contribution not only to economic development of the world, but to progress across all the goals and targets of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, as well.

The aim of the symposium is to celebrate women and girls and their contributions to Science, with particular reference to Mathematics.
